ANOTHER REGINA HOTEL BURNED LAST NIGHT

Wascana Hotel Not Yet Completed Was Entirely Destroyed

Bulletin Special.

Regina, Dec. 4.—Shortly after nine nine o'clock tonight fire started in the new Wascana Hotel and within forty-five minutes the building was gutted, only the facade being left standing, and causing a loss of $60,000. It is just fifteen days since the fatal Windsor hotel fire occurred, causing the loss of four lives and the destruction of one of the best hotels in the west. Following that loss construction has been rushed on the new building, which had just been completed externally and it is supposed that heating stoves within the building caused the fire. The hotel is owned by Arnold Bros and Acaster of this city, the contractors being Smith Bros. and Wilson of Lethbridge. It is supposed that the loss will fall on the latter as the building had not been handed over. There was not a very heavy builder's risk on the building. The alarm was rung in at five minutes past nine and the brigade responded promptly but the whole interior construction was of wood and the hotel was doomed from the start. Only the energy of the brigade prevented the spread of the fire, the hotel being situated in the congested business district of Hamilton street. For a time the big five storey addition to the Regina Trading Co.'s block seemed likely to go and had the conflagration jumped the dividing line it would have consumed the whole block. Fortunately the addition is furnished with fire proof windows, and offered a barrier to the fire fiend.

Boston, Mass., Dec. 4.—Early today the thermometer at the local weather bureau registered four above zero. The sky was clear, but a brisk northwest wind caused much discomfort.

TO START A NEW CITY.

Chicago, Ill., Dec. 4. — The Chronicle today says, "Zion is to be abandoned." Restoration Host, which was built up by John Alexander Dowie after years of strenuous efforts, will shortly be left to its creditors by Overseer Wilbur Gelenn Voliva, who, like a new Moses, will lead his people forth from the discredited land to found another Zion.

The announcement of an approaching hegira was made yesterday by Overseer Voliva before an audience of more than ten thousand persons in Zion church. At the same time he outlined his plans for the new city, to be conducted along socialistic lines, with himself as supreme spiritual and temporal head. Coupled with the announcement of his plans were vehement denunciations of other members of the church whom he declared were responsible for its fall.

FEUD ENDED

Valdosta, Ga., Dec. 4.—hTe crime for which J. G. Rawlings and Alf. Moore, were hanged today, presents unusual features. Rawlings and W. L. Carter were neighbors and both were Baptist ministers. Several years ago a dispute arose as to the line between their respective farms. Litigation and bad blood resulted. Carter was wounded by a shot from an ambush and had Rawlings arrested on a charge of attempted murder. A blood feud followed and the children of Carter were killed. The coroner's jury found that the crime had been committed by Milton and Jesse Rawlings, and Alf. Moore, a negro. The trial resulted in a verdict of death for the elder Rawlings, his sons Milton and Jesse and Alf. Moore. The third son, Leonard Rawlings, was given a life sentence as an accomplice. The cases were finally taken to the supreme court on an extraordinary motion. The verdict was sustained.

D'AMOUR TRIAL IN THE ASSIZE COURT

Nine Challenged Before Jury Was Empannelled and Exact Case of Crown to Show Travels of Mail Package

The supreme court assizes opened at 10 o'clock this morning, and the case of D'Amour, charged with having stolen a package of Union Bank bills, worth $2000 off the C. & E. mail car, was taken up.

That the crown and the defence were not going to let anything go by default was evident from the first moment. According to law, the defence has the privilege to challenge six jurymen and the crown four. Harry H. Robertson, who, with Wilfrid Garleau, as associate counsel, is acting for the defence, challenged his full six, and E. B. Cogawell for the crown challenged three. There were only 13 men summoned to appear for service as jurymen, and the court was still one juryman short when the list had been run through, five being selected out of the thirteen. The sheriff was dispatched into the cold outside to pick up on the highways and byways, or behind their comfortable radiators other citizens to select from and four more were marched in. The jury finally chosen was Jos. Picard, D. Theresault, Joseph Bentley, Harry Goodrich, F. McPhee and J. M. Adams.

Mr. Cogswell, in opening his case for the prosecution, said that they would endeavor to show that on the 26th of April last the Montreal branch of the Union Bank of Canada posted a parcel containing $2000 in $10 Union Bank bills to the Edmonton branch, that it became Registered Package No. 5920, was dispatched from Montreal on April 27th, reached Calgary May 1st, was checked by Stanley Turner, mail clerk on the C. & E., between Calgary and Red Deer, was checked again between Red Deer and Ponoka; that at Ponoka Turner left the car for dinner, leaving Joseph D'Amour in charge; that the package was left tied in a bundle of of shoes in the toss of which were registered letters in the car, that Turner when he return d, put the bunch of letters into the sack, that the sack was placed in charge of the transfer man at Strathcona, who turned it over to the post office in Edmonton, and then when opened it did not contain the $2,000 package. D'Amour was arrested on the following Sunday, was given a preliminary hearing in Edmonton and dismissed. His father came up from Winnipeg, was present at the preliminary hearing and returned to Winnipeg after it, the boy going as far as Calgary with him. While staying over in Calgary the boy was arrested again and was again released, the purpose of the second arrest not being altogether plain. He then went on to Winnipeg, and in St. Boniface, on June 3rd, was arrested a third time. The prosecution will show that in his trunk at the time of his arrest that D'Amour had a hair stowed $360 in Union Bank bills, that D'Amour admitted the ownership of the trunk and unlocked it himself from a key which he had in his pocket. The crown has a host of witnesses from Montreal, Ottawa and all along the line, and evidently intends to account for every minute of the parcel's time from the moment it was tied up by the teller in Montreal until it arrived at Ponoka and disappeared. Practically every man who handled the parcel from one side of the continent to the other is present in Edmonton today to give evidence. The crown got as far along as Stanley Turner, the mail clerk on the C. & E. this morning, when the court adjourned for lunch.

Mr. B. Day, paying teller of the Union Bank of Canada, Montreal, was the first witness called by the crown. He gave very exact evidence as to how the package containing the $2,000 in $10 bills was done up, along with three others in the paying teller's cage in Montreal by himself and a Mr. Sinclair; how it was addressed, sealed with the Union Bank seal and turned over to the messenger for delivery to the post office. The parcel book was presented as evidence, showing the signatures of himself and Sinclair on the 26th of April, and the initials of the messenger, whose name was T. R. Smith. A copy of the advice that was sent to the Union Bank of Canada was also produced, showing the amount, denomination, destination, method of shipment, route, etc. Receipt of the package was never acknowledged by the Edmonton branch.

On cross-examination Mr. Robertson brought from Day the fact that the Union Bank did not usually send their bills unsigned, but on the contrary reissued well preserved bills as they came in having no absolute system of identification.

Thomas R. Smith, messenger for the Union Bank of Canada, Montreal, told of taking the parcel from the hands of the teller, Mr. B. Day, and conveying it to the post office, where he delivered it to the registration clerk, Mr. Langton.

Smith's book showed that three packages had been registered on the 26th of April, the day in question. When Mr. Robertson brought it to his attention that Mr. Day said there had been four packages done up in the teller's cage that day, Smith had to do some hunting over his records to account for the apparent discrepency. It was shown, however, that one of the four packages, containing $7,000 in $1 bills, or "legals" as the bank clerks call them, was shipped to Haileybury by express. Smith did not have a copy of the express receipt for the "legals," but otherwise his evidence was perfect.

Joseph Longpre, clerk at the money wicket in the Montreal post office, testified to having received the parcel from Smith and having turned it over to Reynolds, a clerk in the post office, whose duty it was to enter the parcel and start it on its journey. He had no distinct recollection of the particular parcel in question, but he gave a very exact description of the routine and showed the initials of the clerk to whom he had turned the parcel over.

Joseph Cosgrove, checker of the registered mail in the Montreal post office, testified to having received the parcel from Reynolds and having checked it out. The parcel was in his possession from the time it was received in the afternoon of April 26th, until 12 p.m., when it was handed over to the man who took the opposite shift, Mr. Granger.

Granger testified to having received the parcel from Cosgrove at 12 p.m., and having handed it over to Mr. Chase at 5 o'clock in the morning.

On cross-examination Granger said that he did not remember this parcel in particular; that he was giving evidence only on the transaction represented by his books.

Mr. Chase, mail clerk in the registered letter office, testified that he was on duty on the morning of April 27th, and testified as to the signatures which showed that he had received the parcel at 5 a.m., and at 8 a.m. had turned it over to Mr Deucent, also in the Montreal post office.

Deucent swore to the signatures showing that he had received the package from Chase at 8 a.m. and turned it over to Mr. Larose at 9 a.m.

Larose, who is the railway mail clerk, showed his papers, which indicated that he had received the Union Bank package from Dincent along with 12 others. His run was from Montreal to Ottawa. He swore to the letter bill showing all the registered mail for Ottawa, Fort William route. He delivered the parcel to the next man, Jones, at the Central station, Ottawa, at 12.40 on the 27th.

E. M. Jones, railway mail clerk between Ottawa and Pembroke, swore to the papers and signatures indicating that he had received the packages from Larose and having handed them over to James McFarland.

McFarland passed the parcel along to Fort William. He had it from 1 p.m. on April 27th, until 10 a.m., April 28th. Here the next mail clerk, Auger, by the bills and books, is represented as having taken the parcel and handed it over to his assistant, who travelled in the car with him. The assistant, Jos. Pronovault, was called. His bills showed that he had received package No. 5920 at Ignace. The evidence of Auger did not show that he signed for any packages at Fort William, and as Pronovault had done the signing and had not received the parcel until he reached Ignace this formed the only link in the system so far in which the parcel was not in the hands of the man who signed for it.

The defence cross-examined Pronovault pretty closely, bringing out the fact that he was not present when Auger took over the car. Pronovault was asked if Auger could write his own name in English, or if he could read English at all. Pronovault thought he could but no reports of Auger's in English, were produced.

Stanley Turner was called and the court adjourned.

GOVERNMENT WILL AID COLD STORAGE DEPOTS

Minister of Agriculture Asks For $100,000 For First Installment

Bulletin Special

Ottawa, Dec. 4.—The Hon. Sydney Fisher introduced his cold storage resolution in the House today. He said that any Government aid to commerce should be only temporary, and intended to place that branch of commerce on a permanent and self-sustaining basis. The Government should take action when there was a reasonable certainty of independent success within a few years. Where it would appear there would be a few years' losses this would deter corporations and individuals from embarking on the enterprises. The knowledge and the interest of the public in cold storage was such that its general application to transportation and storage of perishable food products, was only a matter of a few years and a little assistance. He was asking a vote of $100,000 as a first aid. Several parties had schemes for government aided cold storage. At least two of them had proposed that the government guarantee their bonds. One had proposed a chain of cold storage deposits throughout Canada. While the intention of the promoters of this scheme were doubtless the best, it might lead to a monopoly in the transportation of perishable agricultural products. He did not think the agricultural portion of the country were in favor of anything of the nature of a monopoly as applied to the marketing of their products, and the chances were they would not approve of this. He had not seen his way clear to recommend a guarantee of bonds of an industrial company as there was no telling where such a precedent would lead to. He had fallen back on the plan which had been applied to the steamships some years ago. To induce ships to put in cold storage, cooled apartments and ventilated holds for the transportation of perishable food products, the government had undertaken half the cost of installation. The result had been that all other companies to share in the commerce had to fit their steamers with the same equipment without government assistance and now most of the boats engaged in the carriage of the food products of Canada were so fitted, though the government had long since ceased granting aid. A similar plan would be adopted in respect to cold storage.

Asked how many cold storage plants would the $100.000 vote aid, Mr. Fisher said that the amount was ten per cent of a million dollars, and he hardly hoped in the ensuing year that he would have applications for aid from a million dollars worth of cold storage depots. The resolution was adopted. The House went into committee of ways and means on the resolutions on which the new tariff bill is to be based. There was an interesting discussion on the intermediate tariff. Messrs. Borden and Foster desired to know to what countries the government proposed extending its favorable provisions. Hon. Mr. Fielding replied that he knew there were several countries open to negotiating for better tariff relations with Canada, however, the government had no particular country in mind when the intermediate tariff was brought down and there was no country which it could be said was immediately willing to take advantage of the intermediate tariff. The greatest difficulty in the way of the application of the provision of the intermediate tariff to any country were the favored nation treaties which Great Britain had made with a large number of countries.

LABOR UNIONS ENDORSE GRIESBACH.

At a meeting of representatives of the labor unions of the city held the night before last in Unity hall, W. A. Griesbach was endorsed for the mayoralty and the selection of aldermen was left to the discretion of the labor men.

The result of the meeting was not given out for publication but the above is quoted on reliable authority as the gist of what happened.

HORSE HILLS

The roads of this districts are reported to be lined with teams hauling grain to Oliver station. The farmers are netting 25 cents a bushel for their oats, which they consider a great advance upon the Edmonton market, where the low price of 22 cents is further lowered by the heavy town expenses.

Many of the farmers are discontinuing trading in Edmonton to the extent they have done in the past.

STRATHCONA NEWS

TOWN COUNCIL.

The last meeting of the Strathcona town council for 1906 was held last night in the fire hall. The mayor was on the chair and all but Coun. Douglas was present. The session lasted till 10 o'clock, but there was no business of pressing importance.

The first items were the reading of the minutes, passing of bills, etc.

A number of communications were read, including two from Commissioner Pace, Edmonton, one re the connection of Strathcona and Edmonton water pumping stations to provide for higher pressure at either town in case of accident in the other, and the other with regard to an agreement concerning the telephone system. They were left with the fire, water and light committee who are to meet the Edmonton commissioners.

Mr. H. G. Clarke tendered his resignation as town auditor and it was accepted.

The secretary was instructed to give an order to Mr. Kent, the electrical expert, to install the Westinghouse switchboard.

The town solicitor reported re Galleberg who was killed by a telephone pole last fall. From enquiry he had learned that the earth had been dug away to the extent of two and a half or three feet from the bottom and that the deceased went up the pole without any explicit orders. While hammering on the cross-bar the pole fell killing him. The death was as much the result of deceased's own carelessness as anything else and he would give as his opinion under the circumstances that the town was not liable.

The report was received and the secretary instructed to write Beck, Emery, Newell and Bolton that the town would not hold themselves responsible.

The matter of having the petitions re high level bridge signed was referred to and several of the councillors suggested that the addresses as well as the names be secured in each case and thus make the petitions more effective.

Some time ago it was decided to hire a collector together in arrears in water and light taxes and last night the secretary reported that he had been in negotiations and one man had offered to do the work for $50 a month, but would prefer commission. It was suggested that the policemen collect the hardest accounts and after further discussion the matter dropped for the present.

On motion it was agreed that the town pay for Ross hall for the meeting to be held tonight as for the meeting last year for which the mayor had personally paid at the time.

The secretary-treasurer asked the council to authorize him to close the town office earlier in the day as it was impossible to keep up the work on the books with money coming in as at present.

Coun. Richards thought it was better not to shorten the hours at present when money was rushing in. He thought it better to put in another assistant if necessary

It was moved by Coun. Cowles that the hours be changed from 9 to 5, as at present, to 9 to 4, but there was no seconder so the motion dropped.

The council then adjourned.

BUSINESS CHANGE.

The photographic business conducted for many years by Mr. C. E. Tighe in the apartments above the post office, has been disposed of to Mr. J. W. Britain, lately of Kalispell, Montana. The latter has brought his own apparatus and with the assistance of his wife will conduct an up to date studio.

FIRE LOSSES ADJUSTED.

The loss of Mr. Sugarman from the fire in the Parrish block was adjusted yesterday and a very satisfactory arrangement has been made with the London and Liverpool Fire Insurance Co, represented by Mr. O. Bush Mr. Sugarman contemplated increasing his insurance some time ago, but neglected doing so, and as a result the stock was only partially covered. An incident in connection with the fire was the loss of a valuable cat, prized very highly by the proprietor and found after the blaze with one foot underneath the back door, where it had suffocated from the smoke.

YOUNG MEN DEBATE.

There was a good sized audience at the debate in the Baptist church last night in which the participants were the young men of Knox Presbyterian and the Baptist churches. The chair was occupied by Mr. O. Bush, president of the Baptist Young Men's club, and the judges of the debate were J. R. Lavell, who acted in the absence of Hon. Mr. Rutherford. Principal Jenkins and Inspector Ross. The question at issue was the Government Ownership of Railways, and Mr. C. H. Grant opened in support in an able and argumentative speech. He was followed by Mr. R. P. Lewis, who spoke in opposition to government control. The other speakers were Mr. Sanders, of Edmonton, who supported Mr. Grant, and Mr. George Nightingale, who supported Mr. Lewis. After the openers had replied and closed their cases the judges gave their decision in favor of the affirmative. After remarks by Rev. Mr. Corey, Mr. McNally and others a very pleasant evening was brought to a close.

—After twenty years in the West John Govenlock, Ellerslie, leaves this week on a visit to his old home in Huron county, Ontario.

—Hon. A. C. Rutherford will be in the fire hall from nine till one today and on Saturday to explain regarding the arrearages in town taxes.

—R. L. Hughson, Whitford, was in Strathcona several days ago with a bunch of 54 horses he had just imported from Great Falls, Montana.

—On Monday last the sum of $3,500 receipts was taken in at the town hall office. This is perhaps one of the largest sums taken in in one day in the history of Strathcona.

—Mr. J. R. Lavell has removed his law office in the Parrish block, which was injured last week by fire, to the Duggan block, to the rear of Mr. H. F. Sandiman's office.

—The cow-catcher of the engine of the late train last night was piled high with snow. The storms this year are giving more trouble on the line than ever before at this season of the year.

—It is hoped that Ross hall will be heated for the candidates' meeting this evening. At the town meeting last Friday night the thermometer registered close to freezing in the building.

—The town authorities have decided to collect the arrears in water and electric light taxes and will cut off subscribers who are far in arrears after giving the statutory twenty-four hours' notice.

—Mr. A. T. Mode, of the firm of Rutherford, Jamieson & Mode, leaves this afternoon for a two months' visit to his home at Vankleek Hill, Ontario. During his absence the duties of secretary of the school board will be administered by Mr. Charles A. Grant, of the same law office.

—At the police court yesterday, Victor Hood, a visitor from across the river, appeared for drunkenness and was fined $1 and costs. Last evening a Frenchman was gathered in, and this morning with the aid of the assistant secretary treasurer, who acted as interpreter, learned the charge made against him, and made his explanations. He was fined the usual sum.

—Plaindealer—Through the agency of A. Davies & Co. Dr. E. Green has just sold his residence at the corner of McDonald avenue and Duggan st. to Mr. W. C. Trahern, for $5,000. Some idea of the appreciation of realty values in Strathcona may be had from the fact that Dr. Green bought this property a year ago for $2,500 The doctor is moving to the house on Whyte avenue, west, lately occupied by Mr. Harry Wilson, who has just moved into his new home on West Railway street, near Saskatchewan avenue.

ALBERTA OATS

Bulletin No. 127, of the Dominion Inland Revenue Department, pays a decided compliment to the Brackman Ker Milling Co. in the usual official way. It is dated October 6th and contains particulars of samples of rolled oats and oatmeal gathered throughout the length and breadth of Canada.

The Brackman-Ker Milling Company, starting in Victoria, B. C., many years ago, have since established mills and branches in all parts of British Columbia and in Alberta with headquarters at Strathcona. Many samples of the firm's products were included in those collected, all of which were subjected to microscopical examination. Rolled oats and oatmeal of all kinds were subjected to this test and all show extremely favorable results when compared with their competitors.

While first class oatmeals manufactured in Europe and the United States generally contain .20 per cent of crude fibre, those of this firm only average 1.72 per cent. Some of the other samples examined ran as high as 3.35 per cent of cruds fibre, and 64 out of the 155 samples examined show more than the 2 per cent above mentioned.

Out of the large number collected seventeen samples were analized in the government laboratory, only one of which happened to be the product of the Brackman Ker Milling Company. It was a two-pound package of rolled oats, purchased at the store of McDougall & Secord, Edmonton, and manufactured at the Strathcona mills of the B.—K. Company. It out-distanced by far all competitors. The crude fibre was only .20 per cent, one-tenth that of the best European average.

Coming now to the proteid and fats, the most valuable nutriments in oatmeal, the chief analyst states the averages were as follows:

Proteids 12.30 per cent., and fats 4.67 per cent. The Brackman-Ker samples of rolled oats showed 12.93 of the former and 5.80 of the latter. No better evidence can be asked as to the value of the local firm's products than the splendid showing under test by analysts who did not know whose samples they were investigating, in this case their only knowledge being it was number 28,679. Some of the other samples run below 11 per cent. proteids and 3.76 per cent butter fat.

The investigation was caused by complaints being received by the department that flaked and rolled oats of inferior quality were being manufactured and sold in Ontario. No such complaints were received from Alberta or British Columbia.

The result of this critical investigation is a tribute at once to the excellence of Alberta oats and to the splendid equipment of the Brackman-Ker Co.'s cereal mill in Strathcona relief. ing also credit upon the skill of the millers and efficiency of the management.

Farmers who are now beginning to ship their oats should be careful in cleaning and properly grading, so as to maintain the good name Alberta oats have deservedly obtained abroad.

WORLD'S MARKETS

GRAIN LETTER

Winnipeg; Wheat—The market has ruled active and strong today. Opening prices steady to a shade higher on the better Liverpool cables. Later the pit crowd bought moderately and the close was steady at about 7-8c advance over the low price of the day. Cash situation good at fair premiums. North West receipts, Winnipeg included, were 1,277 cars against 845 on the date a year ago. Liverpool closed unchanged to 1-4 higher with future unchanged. Minneapolis stocks increased 125,000 for three days and flour shipments from that point were very small at 34,310 bbls. Argentine news was favorable and good rains were reported as having fallen where most needed. The Secretary of Agriculture announced that the wheat crop was estimated at 147,345,000 bu. Bradstreet's report on the world's supply was not bullish, as it showed a decrease of only 216,000 bu. against last years decrease of 760,000 bu. Primary receipts 1,164,000 against 1,152,000 bu. a year ago. Shipments 1,852,000 against 1,548,000 bu a year ago. Clearances of wheat and flour equalled 349,000 bu. Wheat for the present is only a scalping affair but will shortly be good to buy for investments.

STOCK LETTER

Stocks opened strong again today and ruled active and strong for the first hour. The President's message to congress was construed as a bulls argument, but under cover of this and the continued strength of the market, a great deal of profit taking orders came into the market, which for a time were quickly absorbed but during the last hour the market gave way to this class of selling, and the prices eased off from 1-2 to 1 1-2 points, This little reaction is quite natural after the advance we have had during the past ten days and affords an excellent opportunity to pick up the standard stocks and the medium and low priced issues. On any further slight recession, we advise the purchase of Can. Pacific and in fact any of the good active issues, together with the low prices issues. This is a bull market, so don't wait for much further set back in prices before buying.

Bulletin Special

Winnipeg, Dec. 3.—On May 23, S. J. McArthur, of Fort Arthur gave J. J. Carrick an option on Cumberland street property, Port Arthur, for $12,000, less 5 per cent commission. One dollar passed between them. Next morning Mr. McCutcheon says he found his daughter, not himself, was the real owner and he could not sell the property. Meanwhile Carrick had sold the property to F. C. Noice for $14,000. McCutcheon could not deliver the property and Carrick had already sold it, so they went to law to straighten out the difficulty. At the trial McCutcheon pleaded that the one dollar was not in consideration of the option, but was a loan. He also pleaded that the agreement was not under seal. Judge Mahee found against him and gave judgment today in favor of Carrick for $2,-

YOUNG LIBERALS ANNUAL MEETING

Financial, Social and Political Standing of the Club Is Excellent and Improving

OFFICERS ELECTED

First Honorary President; Frank Oliver.
Second Honorary President; Chas. W. Cross.
Honorary Vice President; Geo. B. McLeod.
President; Dr. O. S. Strong.
First Vice President; Jas. A. McKinnon.
Second Vice President; Cecil Sutherland.
Third Vice President; Hugh Campbell.
Secretary; J. B. Walker.
Treasurer; F. A. Robertson.
Executive Committee; Chas. Race, John Sommerville, W. G. Harrison, E. E. Chauvin, W. M. Lefaivre, P. C. Foley, W. Garrepy, Alf. Kemp, A. Lessard Geo. B. O'Connor.

The annual meeting of the Young Liberal Club of Edmonton was held in the club rooms in the Walker Block last night at which officers were elected for the ensuing year and the business of the club for the past year reviewed.

That the Young Liberal Club has got far past the experimental stage and is now a firmly established social as well as political club was fully demonstrated at last night's meeting. There were one hundred Young Liberals present, with George B. McLeod in the chair and in his opening address in which he reviewed the history of the club since the day it was organized on the 14th took over the Tepee Club, it was shown that the active membership is 185 at the present moment and that a very large increase may be looked forward to within the next six months, especially in view of the fact that the annual membership fee may be reduced.

Mr. McLeod predicted a lively year for 1907. He predicted that as a result of a series of open social meetings which they propose to hold during the winter months that the work and scope of the club would be greatly extended. He also promised that a good library was to be started free to members, in which they would have, besides all the important periodicals of Canada, United States, England and France, a shelf of political literature unexcelled in the west. The prospects, the retiring president said, of the Young Liberal Club, were unexcelled by any other social or political organization in Western Canada.

F. A. Robertson, treasurer for 1906, and re-elected for 1907, gave his report, which showed a very encouraging condition financially. When the Young Liberals took over the Tepee club, 18 months ago, they assumed liabilities in connection therewith, of $1600, or thereabout. Today the total indebtedness of club is $600, all running expenses having been met up to date and $1,000 cut off the principal. During the past 18 months the club has benefitted handsomely by the subscriptions of prominent Liberals of the older school, and a strong effort is to be made to clear off the remaining $600 by subscription and it is thought that the $150 or thereabout of running expenses will be easily met by the receipts from the billiard tables.

The election of officers followed and after that came short speeches by the officers elected, among which that of Dr. Strong, Jas. A. McKinnon and J. B. Walker deserve special mention.

P. E. Butchard and Ed. Lessard made brief addresses on the objects and aims of the Liberal club, Mr. Butchart bespeaking the high ideal in politics and advising the club members to make their work more largely social.

Jas. McGeorge, Wilfrid Garlepy and others, had brief speeches which were well received. The club members finished up their entire business and adjourned about 11 o'clock.

PRISONERS BROUGHT UP.

Sergt. Redmond and Constable Balk, of the R. N. W. M. P., arrived in the city yesterday afternoon from Maple Creek, with three prisoners for the penitentiary here. The names are Albert Paul, five years for burglary; William Smith, four years for forgerry; Francis Vilburn, three years for horse thieving.

There are now 49 prisoners in the penitentiary and of these 21 are sleeping on cots in the halls. In about six weeks however, a large building that has been under construction for the last three months will be ready for the reception of prisoners. This building which stands behind the main building, has been erected by prison labor and will contain 108 cells. The authorities of the penitentiary anticipate that there will be seventy-five prisoners incarcerated here by next spring.

While the prisoners were being brought over from Strathcona in the R. N. W. M. P. sleigh, prisoners and officers were thrown out and the team ran away. The journey to the penitentiary was completed on foot and the prisoners safely delivered.

THE MUNICIPAL CONTEST

If in the multitude of candidates there be safety the council of next year should be a safe custodian of the city's interests. For the five aldermanic vacancies there are no less than fourteen candidates, while three more citizens aspire to the mayoralty.

It is notable that of all these seventeen candidates for municipal honors only two have seen service in the council previously. Aldermen Bellamy and Griesbach are members of the present council; the other candidates are all new to Edmonton civic life. While therefore three of the present aldermen will sit in the council next year and while another may be elected to the mayoralty the majority of the council of 1907 will be men who have not sat in the present or a preceding council.

It is regrettable that none of the retiring aldermen are candidates for re-election to the same office. The council of 1906 has had a particularly strenuous year and has accumulated very valuable experience in municipal affairs. More than any preceding council they have been continuously face to face with the changing times and the problems which the evolution of a city brings into view. The volume of ordinary business demanding their attention has been far heavier than that of any former year while there was added to it the necessity of considering and undertaking a number of public enterprises of immense importance, constituting a construction program not equalled by any previous council.

In handling this unusually heavy year's business the members of the council have acquired an experience in the management of municipal affairs which should better qualify them for further service had they again been candidates for aldermanic seats. The three remaining members whose terms are not yet expired will of course carry forward the benefit o this experience to the succeeding council but its lessons will be transmuted to the majority by explanation and not by personal recollection. And as the majority of the council will be new men the busines of the city is quite likely to drag during the earlier part of the year until they have secured a grasp of the situation.

On the other hand there is an advantage in having a large number of new men in the field. Clearly the present contest cannot be fought out on the ground of municipal record for the excellent reason that most of the candidates have no such record. The discussions may be expected therefore to deal with the future rather than the past. While a good record is an undoubted strength to a candidate it not infrequently happens and particularly in municipal affairs, that when the fight is waged on historic ground the public attention is turned exclusively from the things which should properly occupy it to those which are past and gone. Such cannot well occur in the present instance for the candidates will have no encouragement to search the past for instances of their administrative ability and disinterestedness. The candidate who will really contribute to the value of the discussion is the one who will devote his attention to the problems of the future, and as Edmonton is a city of the future he is likely to be also the candidate who will sit in next year's council.

ALL IN.

Judging from the Calgary Herald things are going rapidly from bad to worse with Mr. Walsh. Even the blank cartridges have played out and the Herald has got down to its regular broad-sides of home-made personalities. That it would do so before the campaign was over was reasonably certain and it has made a record only in the matter of time necessary to exhaust its supposed political arguments and get down to its customary manner of political discussion.

So far, therefore, as the Herald is concerned provincial politics are to be considered as bearing no part nor lot in the Gleichen by-election. Instead of the Administration of the Government we are treated to a reference to the Minister of the Interior, and in place of a criticism of the Governmental policy to an attack on Mr. Duncan Marshall. What connection the Minister of the Interior may have with the Gleichen by-election is left purely to the imagination of the reader, and his ingenuity is supposed to also supply the connection between the oratorical ability or inability of Mr. Marshall and the reasons why the electors of Gleichen should elect Mr. Walsh. Neither are the views of the Herald concerning these gentlemen sufficiently unknown or sufficiently important to warrant their interjection to the exclusion of the live issues of the campaign. We have been favored with these views before and in language quite as vigorous. The peculiar offence of both appears to be their residence in Edmonton—a singularly appropriate one when it is recollected that Mr. Walsh a year since did not consider St. Albert too far afield to deserve his political attentions.

The significance of this development in the campaign is not that the Herald assails those whom it is pleased to set up as its enemies nor the manner in which it assails them, but the fact that it forgoes the discussion of political matters at this stage of the contest for the explicit purpose of assailing them. The plain facts of the case are that the Herald and its friends have nothing to offer either in amendment or substitution for the policy or administration of the Government and in their poverty-stricken condition are grasping at the only weapon remaining to the policyless politician.

LETHBRIDGE JUDICIAL DISTRICT.

Lethbridge Herald: That the attorney general of this province is wide awake to the needs of Alberta, is evidenced by the semi-official announcement that he will introduce a bill at the coming session of the legislature creating a system of county or district courts.

Lethbridge, as the head of a judicial district, will have a county judge and his location here will facilitate to a great degree the legal business which at present is frequently delayed by the absence of a resident judge in the south country. Complaints have frequently been made about these prolonged delays and Mr. Cross is going to remedy the grievance immediately. As long as the Alberta government follows its present admirable policy of meeting the needs of the people it may expect a long lease of power.

A DIFFERENCE.

Medicine Hat News: Nobody questioned the propriety of the arrangements whereby the C. P. R. got control of most of the land between here and Calgary, and made it valuable by applying irrigation. Nobody questioned the propriety of the Alberta Railway and Coal company when they got hold of the 500,000 acres of practically useless land, and by irrigation works, made it useful, valuable and productive. There was no question raised when the one proposition helped Calgary to grow, or when the other helped Lethbridge to grow. Now there is a proposition on foot for big irrigation works at Medicine Hat, and the Calgary Herald scents graft and boodle and everything else but real business, and makes an uncalled for attack on the parties who are active in the proposition.

WORK OF THE ARMY

Commissioner Coombes Tells of His Immigration Policy

Com. Coombs, who was to lecture in Edmonton last Thursday, gave the following statement to the Calgary Albertan on the immigration scheme of the Salvation Army:

When asked regarding the immigration problem the commissioner had the following to say.

"Last year alone we brought to this country at east one in twelve of all the English-speaking people that came to Canada, although we have only taken hold of the business within two years. Next year I expect that the Salvation Army will bring to this country at least one in eight of the English-speaking immigrants.

"And, sir, we have no difficulty in getting the people. I am at present inundated with applications for men, and, on the other hand, people elsewhere are rising up and saying, 'Why should the Salvation Army take the people we want here? They let us take the people whom they think are no good, but object to our taking the others. We say very mildly in reply, that Canada wants the people that are good and not the others. So, sir, if it were possible for us to bring in 100,000 people I have no hesitation in saying that we could place them advantageously on mighty acres of this western land. I travel through these vast provinces and see everywhere thousands of acres untilled and unfilled. They seem to me each to say, 'Send me the men, that I can show them what I can produce. Send me the men.' I was reading the other day that but three per cent of the wheat-growing area of this great country is cultivated, that there is in this land of ours sufficient wheat-bearing land to produce a billion bushels a year—enough to feed the whole world.

"In other lands men are crying, 'Take hold of me that I may go and till the land'; and the land says, 'Bring the men that I may produce for them what will keep them.' What we want, sir, is the ability more and more to take hold of the people whose fortune lies in their moral character and in their muscles, who have not got money but have good moral character and plenty of bodily strength; and we want some of the men who have the money to help us bring them to this country. If they only get the chance they will lay the foundations of their own fortunes and make the fortunes of of the country.

"We are only making a beginning with this wonderful immigration question. We hope to send more people to Alberta in this next year than in the past. The cry for men is great all over the west and there seems to be a kind of magnet drawing the young men from the east. I have just come from the maritime provinces, where there is a wail going up that you in Calgary and the west generally are drawing away their young men. But we shall have to go on doing it until we fill up this great country. We as an Army belong to every land, but we desire to bring here the people who at least believe in God. We have a notion that if a man believes He is, there is a chance that he may believe that He is a rewarder of them that diligently serve him."

TOO WEALTHY TO BE GOOD.

London, Dec. 3—At a great revival meeting in the Exeter Hall here tonight General Booth, head of the Salvation Army, announced that he would sail for America early in January, where he would conduct a strenuous campaign. He said the Salvation Army had gained a great footing in the United States, but the majority of Americans were too rich and prosperous to be religious.

CURLING.

The Granite Curling club stole a march on the other city clubs last evening when the first game of the season took place on its ice. W. A. Carson, president of the Manitoba branch, was an honored guest at the initia' match and skipped a rink of Granite curlers against R. D. Waugh, the president of the club. The Granites were generous and permitted their visitor to carry away the victory by a score of 9 to 8, after a most interesting game.—Winnipeg Telegram

The eighteenth annual bonspiel of the Manitoba branch of the Royal Caledonian Curling club will be held in Winnipeg, commencing on Wednesday, February 5. The semi-annual meeting of the branch will be held on the Tuesday evening previous. The settlement of these important matters and the election of officers for the year constituted the chief business of the annual meeting of the branch.

The new officers are:—

Patron—A. F. D. MacGachen.

President—W. A. Carson.

First vice-president—William Robertson, Kenora.

Second vice-president—John Angus, Emerson.

Secretary-treasurer—J. P. Robertson.

Chaplain—Rev. Dr. Wilson.

Executive committee—W. L. Parrish, W. F. Payne, E. J. Rochon, F. O. Fowler, J. F. Palmer, R. H. Smith, J. Pitblado, C. W. Huffman, R. A. C. Manning.

The branch last year had 90 clubs upon its roll, and out of that number five were in default. Eighty-five were in good standing, with an aggregate of 2,804 members in affiliation. Four new clubs were added to the rolls, making the total strength of the association 2,885 members.

Carlyle, Sask., Dec. 3—The Carlyle bonspiel will commence on Jan. 15. Enough members have joined the curling club to compose ten rinks and there is every promise of curling being the leading winter sport of the town.

HOCKEY.

The first game of the Stanley cup series (with Kenora) will be played in Montreal, Jan. 7th. The game will be between the Kenora Thistles and the Montreal Wanderers,who hold the mug. Two games will decide the event. The second will probably be played on Jan. 9th. Total goals will count.

Medicine Hat Hockey club was organized for the season last Friday evening, when it was decided to apply for admission to the new Southern Alberta league, which includes Pincher Creek, Coleman, Blairmore, Bellevue, Frank, Gourley, Macleod and Lethbridge. Officers were elected as follows: Hon. president, Hon. W. T. Finlay; president, James Fleming; vice-president, A. J. N. Temill; secretary-treasurer, W. B. Finlay; executive committee, R. Turnbull, Earl Porter and W. L. Amy.

The annual meeting of the Northern Saskatchewan Hockey league called for recently, was postponed until December 7. Notice of postponement came from President McDonald, of Rosthern, and the delegates were present from both Battlefords. Bill Kennedy, late of Portage la Prairie, was over as delegate from Battleford. Mr. Kennedy says North Battleford will be in the game with a team of its own this winter. The North and South towns had formerly supported a joint aggregations.

NOTES.

The Winnipeg roller rink is still drawing large crowds despite the opening of the ice rinks and this sort of skating seems to have caught on with a good part of the public. The "grand marche," which was introduced last week for the first time, has proven very popular with the skaters and it is skated every night. On Friday night a skating competition will be held and a season ticket will be given to the most graceful couple. Very keen competition is expected.

Alex Galbraith, the well known horseman of Brandon, has been appointed to act as judge at the Chicago horse show. Among the horses to be judged at the forthcoming international show in Chicago will be ten horses sent to this country by His Majesty King Edward and Lord Rothschild. These horses have been on exhibition as extra stock at Toronto, Ottawa, London and Kansas City, but at Chicago they will come into competition for the first time with the best specimens of the breed in North America. Mr. Galbraith's position will certainly not be an easy one, but his long experience as an importer and the fact that he has acted more frequently as a judge at the leading fairs and horse shows of Canada and the United States than any other, eminently qualifies him for his present important task.'

A correspondent of the Ottawa Journal scores that paper for its support of the decision of the Eastern Canada Hockey league admitting professionals to play with so-called amateurs in the following words:—

"The Journal commends the principle adopted by the Eastern Canada Hockey league admitting professionals to play with so-called amateurs. Will the Journal vouch for it that the managers of these clubs will be any more honest than heretofore in respect of payment to such so-called amateurs, considering that the Ottawa club, which the Journal admits has been playing its players, has made the official announcement that they will accept the new arrangement, but will nevertheless remain strictly amateur —as usual.

"Montreal has a Parks and Playgrounds Association, which during eight weeks last summer afforded 45,000 children the opportunity to fill their young lungs with fresh air. The gate receipts of a single hockey match would probably defray the running expenses of these parks for the season. These cases illustrate amateur and professional sports. If one of these is to be sacrificed that the other may live, which one can we better do without?

"A small body of young Canadians, representing certain athletic associations whose ideals are neither the affording of a circus for the amusement of the people nor yet the accumulation of large gate receipts, have banded together to make out of the wreck the bogus amateur has left behind, an instrument that will develop in young Canadians a vigorous physique and a high moral courage. It will take years—it may take a generation —to undo the harm done to pure athletics. The means employed for this purpose will be the development of a spirit of amateur sport, a spirit of love for the game itself, of delight in activity and health and physical development, a spirit that cares for success as a result of vigorous effort, but which can take defeat in a simple, manly way, and would rather give up a game than attempt to win it through means unworthy of a gentleman."

Mr. F. M. Morgan, who has been assistant manager for the Ames Holden Company, Limited, at Winnipeg, is among the latest additions to the business life of Edmonton. On the occasion of his leaving Winnipeg, a few weeks ago for Edmonton, where he is the manager for the Ames Holden Co., Mr. Morgan was the recipient of a handsome dress suit case. The presentation was made in the local office of the company, Mr. Young acting as spokesman for the staff. Mr. Morgan has been identified with the Winnipeg business for about twenty-five years, and the regret of the office staff over his departure for the west was fittingly expressed by Mr. Young. In accepting the gift Mr. Morgan made appropriate remarks, thanking the staff for the memento.

STREET RAILWAY IN PETERBORO.

To the Editor of the Bulletin.

A short time ago the Bulletin published an interview with Mr. P. E. Butchart of this city who is familiar with the street railway situation in the city of Guelph. Today through the courtesy of Col. E. B. Edwards, K.C., who is familiar with the management of the street railway in the city of Peterborough is published a letter from the manager of the Peterborough Light and Power Co. to Col. Edwards, outlining the working of the system in that city. Peterborough and Guelph are small cities like our own, and the conditions that obtain in one are like to obtain in the others. Mr. J. H. Larmouth, the manager of the Peterborough system says:—

"We have about six miles of single track (no double track) and operate regularly 6 cars which gives a fourteen minutes service all over the city, besides these six cars we have four more moter cars (two open and two closed) and four open trailers, one snow sweepper and one wing plough. This wing-plough was new last winter, but we had so little snow that it was not used much. It goes out as a rule with the sweeper, following a short distance behind, a wing twelve feet long projects from the side of the plough and pushes the snow to the side of the street. We did this work the first year we were running with horses and graders, but the wing-plough will be very much cheaper to operate. The wing is controlled by a handwheel inside the car body at which a man stands so as to draw it in if necessary.

As you know, we keep our men in uniforms, the company paying half the cost of the clothing. We have a very good class of men and so far have had no trouble with them. The cars run from six in the morning until 11 at night. If a party of ten or more want a car to take them home from a dance or anything of that nature after 11 o'clock, we supply them with one, and charge double fare. We make a special effort to meet all trains and to be at the theatre and concert halls when entertainments are coming out. Our inspector is supposed to keep close tap on anything of that kind that is going on and see that a car is waiting when the "show" gets out. Our traffic is increasing all the time.

This year we will carry about 30 per cent more passengers than we did last year which is a satisfactory increase. We figure - that we carry the total population of the city once a week. The largest day we have ever had was during last August when Barnum & Bailly's circus was here, on which day we carried 13,500 people, a good many people to handle with the number of cars we have and on a single track. We had no mix-ups at all and no accidents, this was due to a great extent to the fact that we placed a telephone at every switch where the cars crossed and had a man at each telephone all day. No car was allowed to leave a switch until the way was clear to the next crossing point. A man at the end of the line did the dispatching and everything went very nicely. The 'phones cost us a little money, but it was worth it, as we handled a lot of people and there was no grumbling from the passengers on account of the car having to back up when half way between switches as is often the case with single track roads.

You know pretty well how we handle the summer park business and also the winter park. Our skating rink and toboggan slide is free to all who go out on the cars. We have toboggans which rent for 15c per hour but all bringing their own toboggan can use it. We make the place as attractive as possible with electric lights and supply comfortable dressing rooms for both ladies and gentlemen. This year we will have refreshment booth and bowling alley at the rink and expect to have a good season".

Yours sincerely
J. H. LARMOUTH.

RAILWAY SLOWNESS.

To the Editor Bulletin:

One year ago the great Canadian railway system entered Edmonton and if the same energy had been exercised on the west of Edmonton to Stony Plain as was put forth to enter Edmonton from the east, the crop of 1905 could have been shipped by rail to eastern ports, but alas, when this year's crop is in the granaries awaiting shipment and no cars procurable, it is high time to give up hope of the betterment of our condition of the great hot air we hear wafting in the air from the Atlantic to the Pacific. The sincere prayer of each individual is hailing the advent with delight of Jim Hill's approach, who attends to the farmers above all other commerce. It is most trying to the people of Stony Plain, who were so sanguine in the shipment of this year's crop to be so deplorably deficint where their notes and bills meet them in the face and if no rail had been laid the grain would have been teamed to market long ago and bills paid Who are the authorities to approach in this matter to give the matter due consideration, and have things righted quick or never.

Yours respectfully,
M. McKINLEY.

Lethbridge News: R. W. Bradshaw of Magrath has gone to Chicago to bring back a carload of pure bred Percheron stallions and mares. He reports a yield of 32 1-2 bushel to the acre of Alberta Red, and a total yield of about 12,000 bushel on his farm. It was Mr. Bradshaw's wheat that won the gold medal at Portland.

On Nov. 12, says the Lethbridge Daily News, Tennant & Sons, cattle dealers, shipped from Coutts to Chicago some thirteen head of 3 - year - old steers. Before shipping the cattle this firm was offered $37 a head for the bunch, but the price received for the same cattle in Chicago was $60.50 a head. It is estimated that after the freight and duty has been deducted, the price received will average about $40 per head. This is considered one of the highest prices received this season.

Vermilion Signal: Clarence Olmstead returned yesterday from three weeks of strenuous life in the wilds north of the Saskatchewan River. The trip was an exploring and hunting trip and he brought back with him the head and hide of a blacktail deer which had fallen beneath his trusty aim. The animal weighed about 300 pounds. Altogether, he saw fourteen deer of this variety; also an otter in one of the lakes. He saw some fine tracts of spruce timber and several coal seams, the nearest being about thirty miles from town. Splendid fishing is reported from Cold Lake.

A. Desbrais of Medicine Hat had a car shortage experience this month which put him to a direct loss and great inconvenience. He is ranching on a large scale. About November 1, he ordered cars for shipping beef to Winnipeg. Cars were ordered for Nov. 5 and he signed the order for them in the usual way. He had the cattle brought in from his ranch seventy miles, and had them here for that day. He held cattle near the stock yards, from day to day, on until the fifteenth and he could not get cars.

On Nov. 16 he sent the cattle back to his ranch the seventy miles. Between Nov. 5 and 15, there was a drop in price of fifty cents. per cwt.: this would take $6.50 off a 1,300 pound animal and he thought this too much to lose on the top of his expense and inconvenience in holding his cattle while waiting cars for shipment so he sent them home.

H. A. Mullins, a prominent cattle exporter, states that the manner in which the railway company is handling the livestock business is wrecking the cattle trade in Western Canada. These are very strong words of condemnation from a man who knows what he is talking about. He has been holding a thousand head of cattle here since November 15, waiting for cars. The weather has been cold and stormy, the cattle getting poor grass are shrinking.

The Farmers' Milling and Elevator Co. of Prince Albert have erected a grist mill in that town with a capacity of 200 barrels per day. Mr. W. H. Squair, late manager of the Echo Milling Co., of Gladstone, Man. has been engaged by the company to manage the mill, and is buying wheat and superintending the installation of the plant. Buying commenced on Monday and a fair quantity of wheat has been taken in at Fort William prices, less freight and expense of handling.

Red Deer Advocate: John Kean Van Ambera, aged 73, who had been missing since Nov. 1, was found dead on Sunday in a haystack besides the trail on the farm of George Martin, Sect. 29, township 36, range 27 about 3 1-2 miles from the home of his son, with whom he had been living. The body was taken to Penhold and then brought to Red Deer, where an inquest was held on Monday afternoon by Dr. Donovan. The jury concluded from the evidence that deceased came to his death from exposure.

Red Deer Advocate; The Alberta Government exhibit at Halifax is producing splendid returns in the way of settlers. The secretary of Calgary Board of Trade has had several applications for information which are directly traceable to this exhibit, and has spent the greater part of Friday with Mr. W. H. Cawsey of Halifax, who represents a party of thirty who have decided to come west in the spring. Mr. Cawsey states that he is here as a result of the information obtained from the Alberta representatives at the Dominion Fair. He is going to look over the various portions of the province with the view of locating himself and friends in that portion which he thinks will be most suitable to them. They intend to erect a large house which will accommodate the entire party, until it is possible to erect a house on each farm. They are in hopes that they will be able to homestead, and also buy a quarter or a half section each.

Western Canada Contractor; Encouraging reports concerning the building situation come from all the larger towns in the west. At Regina a very large number of substantial buildings have been erected and the architecture would be a credit to a larger place. To the visitor who has not seen Regina for a few years the substantial development of the city is notably apparent. Equal with that of Regina is the expansion of Edmonton, Calgary, Moose Jaw and a number of others, and a notable feature in all these places is the permanent and costly character of the later buildings. There is much work in the future to be done in all these cities before they reach actual maturity, and an important factor in the two capitals, Regina and Edmonton, will be the establishing of the government buildings. Important subjects extending over a considerable period will be let before long, in connection with this work, which all means prosperous activity in all lines. With the development and coming up of the country by the railroad building of the past summer, we may look for great activity in building for the coming season. With a favorable winter such as we hope to get, and which the prevailing moisture promises, building will be carried on to better advantage and this will mean easier deliveries.

RED DEER.

Red Deer, Dec. 3—What might easily have been a fatal accident, occurred on Friday afternoon when scaffolding on the house belonging to G. H. Bawtinheman, on Douglas street, collapsed, bearing with it four men who were engaged in brick veneering the house. It is understood that there were three men already on the scaffold when Mr. Barney Handford stepped on it and walked toward the centre, the scaffold was insufficiently braced and one of the supports broke, precipitating the men to the ground with a considerable amount of the platform on top of them. B. Handford escaped with a broken finger and face cut and bruised, the other men with various bruises. The drop was from 15 to 18 feet.

Red Deer has entered the Central Alberta Hockey league. Jas. Mann, secretary of the club, represented the "Deers" at a meeting of the representatives of the southern division, held in Innisfail on Thursday last. The following was the schedule agreed upon:—

RICH STRIKE AT ROSSLAND

Bulletin Special.

Rossland B.C. Dec. 2—In the White Bear on the 359 foot level an ore body of large dimensions and of good grade has been located by means of a diamond drill. While the management is reticent as to the details of the find still it admits that it is of considerable importance. The management does not desire to say much concerning the strike until it has been opened up and the dimensions accurately shown. It is not known whether the drill penetrated the ledge parallel with it or across it, if across, one of the richest finds in camp has been located. It will take some considerable work to determine this fact however and it will be at least a couple of months before the facts concerning the dimensions can be known.

Learn Dress-Making

in four days, or learn by mail in your spare time at home.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Sanders, of the Sanders' Dress-Cutting School, Stratford, Ont., Can., will visit this place on date given at bottom of advertisement, and will show how you can learn to cut, fit and put together everything in dressmaking. Course consists of eight lessons which are:

By the time you are through with this lesson you will know as much about cutting as if you worked in a shop six months or a year, and gave from $5.00 to $25.00 for a system. In this lesson you test the perfect fit of system by making a waist for yourself or friend.

3rd Lesson—How to cut the different styles in lined waists, by draping, pleating, yokes, reveres, boleras, etc., and putting all together. Fitting and particulars to finishing.

7th Lesson—How to draft to cut skirts by measurement by using the rule of system only; any kind of skirt, no matter what style, can be more easily cut than by using patterns.

8th Lesson—Finishing skirts, cutting coats, etc.

A few reasons why it is the best way to learn. (1) Because it costs no more than the making of one dress. (2) It only takes four days personally, or a couple of weeks by mail. (3) The whole family can learn from system and lessons you take home. (4) I have had thirteen years' experience in dress-cutting and teaching. Have taught over six thousand pupils and all were more than satisfied. I guarantee to give $500 to any one who can't make a perfect fit after they are through—and you don't pay until you are through and are perfectly satisfied.

Don't forget to call on Saturday. Farmers' daughters, and ladies who have worked at dressmaking, or apprentices, specially invited.

Inventor and Instructor.

Will be at Yale Hotel, Calgary, from Saturday, November 24th, to December 1st. At Windsor Hotel, Edmonton, from Saturday, December 8th to 15th, showing method of teaching and enrolling pupils. Will be teaching in each place the week following. Don't miss this opportunity if you have any desire to

Don't Neglect Your Skin!

You have been complaining of a nasty, raw, rough "feel" about your hands, arms, neck or face? It is a common experience just now that the keen, biting winds are upon us. The relief lies in Zam-Buk. Don't neglect your skin. Don't forget that the skin is more than a mere covering for the body. By means of tiny pores it helps to purify the system; and unless cared for, the damp, raw days of winter impair its functions, cause cracking, chaps, and sow the first seeds of skin disease. Don't neglect a cut or a sore, for fear of blood poisoning or inflammation. Zam-Buk is a certain and antiseptic healer. Applied to a cut, a bruise or any skin injury, its antiseptic powers come into operation, and it kills all disease germs which would otherwise cause inflammation and suppuration. Then the herbal essences of which it is composed build up new healthy tissue, cell by cell, till the injury is healed, the disease cured, and all traces of it removed. Write for free box offered below.

Skin Disease for Two Years

Mr. Chas. Hill, of 14 Main Street, Brantford, says:—"For nearly two years I suffered with a skin disease on my legs, which became so irritable at times that I was confined to my bed and unable to apply bandages of any kind or even to let anything touch my legs. I had tried nearly every ointment that was advertised and had taken many medicines internally, but without any good result. Recently I sent for a supply of Zam-Buk, and with the first application I got relief of the irritation. I have used not quite two boxes, and my cure has been complete, the sores having entirely disappeared from my limbs. Since then I have been able to go about my work with perfect comfort—something I have not done for nearly two years. Zam-Buk has certainly worked wonders for me, and I have no hesitation in giving it my recommendation."

Scalp Sores and Eczema Cured

Mrs. T. H. Hurlburt, of Seeley's Bay, Ont., writes:—"For the benefit of others I have pleasure in stating that I have proved Zam-Buk a cure for eczema. I had eczema on my hands, and had doctored with different physicians in vain as well as having tried various remedies. A few applications of Zam-Buk gave me great relief, and by the time I had used two boxes my hands were entirely healed up."

Mr. Henry Harvey, of Cataraqui, says:—"Zam-Buk in my case has done all it was recommended to do. I had some sores on the scalp, which at times caused me such acute pain that I could not bear to touch the part. This continued for nearly two years, and defied all remedies I tried. Zam-Buk was recommended to me, and after a fair trial, I am glad to report the sores are quite cured. I can strongly recommend Zam-Buk for scalp diseases."

Zam-Buk is invaluable for eczema, ulcers, scalp diseases, ringworm, psoriasis, bad legs, inflammation, rashes, eruptions, pimples, sores, scabs, scales, piles, swellings, chapped hands, sore faces, cold-sores, chilblains, chills, cold in the head, cuts, burns, festerings, gatherings, poisoned wounds, etc., etc. Of all druggists, or post free from the Zam-Buk Co., Toronto, for 50c. a box. 6 boxes for $2.50.

Coroner's Jury Criticises Company's Management of Winnipeg Yards

Bulletin Special

Winnipeg, Dec. 3—The coroner's jury on the death of the men killed in the C. N. R. yards by a runaway engine on Thursday last, found that William Neal and Michael Mudlow came to their death as the result of the extreme negligence of the C. N. R. in not having a proper system of operating their trains within the yard limits. Also that Engineer English not only exceeded reasonable speed in passing through the yards, but failed to take proper precautions in loking out for train No. 7, that despatchers should be compelled to keep the yard master definitely posted on the movements of all trains in and out of the yards and depot and also that in their opinion an operator should be stationed at Portage junction at once in direct communication with the dispatcher's office, whereby a better control of the movements of trains could be maintained. They suggested that a double track be laid at once connecting the east and west yards and that a proper block system be employed within the yard limits.

Fort Defiance, Martinique, Dec. 4—An earthquake shock was felt here last night and lasted one minute and a half.

New York, Dec. 3—The courts will have an opportunity to pass upon the trouble between the United States and Japan regarding the treatment of school children in San Francisco.

Ottawa, Dec. 3—The specific interests who objected began this morning the bombardment of the tariff before Mr. Fielding. Mr. W. W. George, chairman of the tariff section of the Canadian Manufacturers, first saw the ministers, to see what could be done, as he put it, on general lines. Afterwards W. S. Calvert, M.P., introduced a deputation of Western Ontario manufacturers of threshing machines. The duty on their raw material increased from 20 to 25 per cent. is what they object to. The next deputation was headed by Roche and Carney, M.P.P.s, and represented the steel interests. They object to the increased duty of 25 cents on steel billets. Several other trade interests are seeking appointments with the minister to voice their objections.

Washington, Dec. 3—In the message to congress today President Roosevelt deals with many important and interesting problems of state. He asks for law to prevent corporations contributing to campaign funds; also for federal power to protect aliens under treaty laws who may be wrongfully treated by state or municipal enactments, having special reference to the treatment of Japanese school children in San Francisco, also scores severely the brutal lynchings in the south and appeals to the manhood of whites and negroes to discourage it. All unoccupied coal lands have been withdrawn and the message suggests that no more exploiting of public domains be permitted. Mines should be worked by private companies, but under the royalty system so that the government could control the prices. Marriage and divorce questions should be dealt with and more uniform laws that will uphold the sacredness of the marriage contract are urged. The Cuban situation is also dealt with and hopes expressed for the future of the island, also a desire for a law for government supervision of all corporations in the States.

FROM DAY TO DAY

RECEPTION AT GOVERNMENT HOUSE.

A Largely Attended and Enjoyable Function.

His Honor the Lieutenant-Governor and Mrs. Bulyea held an enjoyable reception last night for the cabinet ministers, the deputies and their wives, and the members of the civil service. The comparatively small number of those connected with the administration offices at this particular capital permitted of this function being thoroughly enjoyable, with an atmosphere of genuine hospitality apparent as the kindly Governor moved about among his guests during the evening with solicitude for the pleasure of each.

The Lieutenant-Governor and Mrs. Bulyea, assisted by Mrs. Walter Scott, received their guests in the reception room, after which the latter passed on to the cosy library ad halls, the drawing room and billiard room upstairs; the whole house being hospitably thrown open. An orchestra stationed in the upper hallway played bright musical selections throughout the evening. The younger set gravitated naturally toward the large billiard room, where cards and billiards afforded amusement, and animated groups of guests lent the occasion something of the air of a pleasant conversazione. The function, which was somewhat of an innovation, springing from the genuine kindliness of the Governor and Mrs. Bulyea, was most successful and deeply appreciated by the participants. Mr. Babbit, in his assiduous thoughtfulness for the guests' pleasure was an effective aide.

Supper was served throughout the evening in the dining room, which with bouquets of crimson and white flowers, took on a festive appearance. The supper table was cheery with candelabra, shaded with crimson under filigree silver, while from the centrepiece of fine lace effectively draped with crimson satin rose a tall vase of crimson and white roses, shedding fragrance and beauty about.

Mrs. Bulyea was daintily attired in cream silk voile over taffeta with chiffon ruchings; bertha of sequinned chiffon; diamond and pearl ornaments. Mrs. Walter Scott wore a rich gown of black flowered net over black silk; amethyst necklace. Mrs. Rutherford, in a handsome gown of cream voile and lace, Mrs. Charlesworth and Mrs. Mackenzie in pretty cream gowns were attired in what seemed the most popular color, judging from the many cream colored dresses worn. While from the numbers of light gowns there stood out in fine relief a beautiful Empire gown of black net embroidered in silver sequins over sapphire blue silk—the very attractive dress worn by Mrs. George Harcourt.

The list of guests invited included: The Premier and Mrs. Rutherford, Chief Justice Sifton, Hon. C. W. Cross and Mrs. Cross, Hon. W. T. Finley and Mrs. Finley, Mr. and Mrs. George Harcourt, Mr. and Mrs. D. S. Mackenzie, Mr. and Mrs. Sydney Woods, Mr. Harold Riley, Mr. and Mrs. M. J. Macleod, Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Burley, Mr. and Mrs. J. SOCIAL.

Mrs. Bulyea has issued invitations for a breakfast to be given at Government House at twelve o'clock Friday morning, for her guest, Mrs. Walter Scott.

Miss Marjorie Powell, Miss Eleanor Taylor, of Edmonton, Miss Dora Oliver and Miss Claire Oliver were among the guests at a large tea for young people given lately by Miss Katherine Moore, of Ottawa, in honor of Miss Joan Arnoldi, of Toronto.

After the vice-regal Drawing Room a number of supper parties were given in Ottawa this year as usual. The hostess at one of these pleasant endings to a long and tiring function was Mrs. Roberts-Allan, who entertained at supper in honor of her niece, Miss Taylor, of Edmonton, and the Misses Grant, of Perth.

Mrs. Cross entertained at the tea hour yesterday in honor of Mrs. Walter Scott. Mrs. D. Scott and Mrs. Sydney Woods poured the tea and coffee in the pretty tea room. Mrs. Ewing served the ices, while Madame Thibaudeau, Miss Woods and Miss Beck made a trio of charming assistantes in looking after the needs of the guests.

A CANADIAN ARTIST.

Henry Sandham, R.C.A., who was one of the eight artists chosen by Princess Louise to be charter academicians of the Royal Canadian Academy, now represents Canadian art at the metropolis of the British empire. He lives in London—or rather in Chelsea, beloved of artists and litterateurs. According to a recent sketch of his life he was born in Montreal in 1842, and whilst at work in Notman's studio in that city saved money to take him to Europe, where he desired to complete his study of art. It continues:—

Perhaps the picture which has made Mr. Sandham most known to Canadians is his portrait of the late Sir J. A. Macdonald, which now hangs in parliament house at Ottawa. This was the last portrait ever painted of the first premier of Federated Canada, and it has been pronounced by Lady Macdonald as the most speaking likeness ever painted of the great statesman. Mr. Sandham, in chatting about this portrait, remarked that Sir John was such a busy man that it was some time before he could be induced to spare the necessary time for the sittings, and even then he made a curious arrangement with the artist.

"If you have no objection," he said, "I would like to have a minister with me during the sitting, so as not altogether to lose the time for public business."

Mr. Sandham answered to the effect that Sir John was at liberty to ask all the ministers to be present if he so pleased, and, somewhat to his surprise, the prime minister took him at his word. Seats were ranged in a semi-circle at the back of the painter, and Sir John was accustomed to hold a sort of informal cabinet council while Mr. Sandham was plying his brushes.

"I think at this period," he remarked to our representative, "I gained more knowledge of the inside working of the administrator than I had ever known before. Prominent men, whom I had regarded with a kind of reverence, and the accounts of whose estimable services filled columns in the daily press, were juggled about like so many chessmen, and with just about as much ceremony. Of course I was bound to secrecy in everything that passed between the premier and the members of his cabinet. What struck me as very funny was the way in which the various speakers interposed their remarks concerning urgent affairs of state with criticisms of the picture. As this was generally all said in the same breath, the purport of their remarks was really illuminating. I found out, too, during this time that Sir John was a most profound student of British and European politics, and it was on these occasions of his sittings that I really learned what I know of international politics."
